

Master Anterior Contouring and Shading with Dr. Tony Hatch

During this program we will learn contouring and shading principles to help you achieve the best esthetics from your IPS e.max CAD from smile design to the DREADED single unit anterior. This program will be a half day lecture, with the second half of the day dedicated to hands-on contouring and shading your e.max[®] anterior restoration

Date: Friday, November 9th , 2018

Time: Registration 8:30am, lecture/hands on 9am-3:30pm (lunch provided)

Course Fee: $295 Patterson advantage (includes 1 assistant) $50 for additional team member.

Non Patterson Advantage $495 (includes 1 assistant) $50 for additional team member. Max 3 people per practice, 1 doctor, 2 team members.

To Register: PattersonEdu.com view up coming courses. For additional questions please call Nikki Evans-Ivoclar 480-532-4816.

THIS CLASS IS LIMITED TO 10 OFFICES

MAKE IT
e.max[®]

Dr. Anthony Hatch is an alumnus of the University of Maryland Dental School and worked as an instructor in the laboratory after graduation. Dr. Hatch is the former Treasurer of the Academy of CAD/CAM Dentistry and has been involved in CAD/CAM education for 9+ years and CEREC Technology for over 14 years. He has started two highly successful scratch practices on the extreme opposite coasts of the United States, first in Columbia, MD and his current practice, Scripps Rock Dental, in San Diego, CA, both with full integration of CAD/CAM. Dr. Hatch has taught across North America on Anterior CEREC Esthetics, Dental Practice CAD/CAM Integration, inLab Utilization for the Dental Office and Dental Practice Management. He is Co-Owner of Front Office Rocks, an Online Dental Front Office Training website. His hobbies include Hot Rodding, Rock 'n' Roll and Continued Practice Growth.

